FOURTH BLAST
ABOUT PRISON
VICE AWAITEDDETHMERS DEMANDS
REMOVAL OF SIX
TOP OFFICIALS

BY JACK I. GREEN
Lansing, July 26 (P)—Warden Harry H. Jackson and six top officials of the state prison of southern Michigan, all suspended from duty—tonight awaited a fourth blast from Attorney General John R. Dethmers, ending the official disclosures of vice, gambling, favoritism and mismanagement inside the prison.

The prison was being run by Garrett Heyns, state corrections director, under orders of the corrections commission, and the ranking officers of the "world's biggest prison" were on the list awaiting a "early" hearing before the commission.

Outright dismissal of the warden and his six aides was demanded by Dethmers in his third report of the four-month probe. He will make his fourth and last Friday.

Conditions "Malodorous"
In addition to Warden Jackson, the men against whom punitive action was recommended included: Deputy Warden George I. Francis, Assistant Deputy Warden D. C. Pettit, Chief Inspector Walter L. Wilson, H. Charles Watson, director of inmate classification, Richard Riley, director of prison athletics, and Joseph Poirier, accountant of inmate funds. These were all suspended.

Dethmers in a strongly-worded criticism of the prison administrators personally, declared their removal was necessary to correct what he called "malodorous" conditions in the prison.

"The people of the state of Michigan expect their prisons to be penal institutions, not fun houses," the attorney general said. "The judges and prosecuting attorneys of this state expect that when felons are convicted in the courts and sentenced to prison, the purpose to be served is punishment as well as segregation and rehabilitation."

When the opposite actually is true, Dethmers declared, "then the public is entitled to and will demand a drastic remedy and change."

Warden Negligent
Even if no wrong-doing could be charged directly to Warden Jackson, Francis, Pettit, Wilson and Watson, Dethmers declared, they still must be held responsible for the conditions in the prison because that was their job.

Dethmers said the warden denied any knowledge of immorality in the prison, of liquor parties within the walls or in officials' homes, of gangsters visiting inside the prison and similar charges.

"Either the warden knew of conditions and is guilty of culpable negligence to take effective measures to correct them, or he was not aware of conditions, in which case he has demonstrated his utter incapacity for the position he now occupies," the attorney general said.

Dethmers accused Jackson of failing to follow the recommendations of the prison psychiatrist to control sexual perversities, that he allowed an employee to leave two inmates at a Jackson movie theater unguarded for several hours, that he permitted another inmate to go alone to Detroit unattended.

Didn't Forget Payday
Contentiously, Dethmers said of Francis: "This official's only overt act seems to have been to bestir himself twice a month to receive his pay check, and, for the rest, total and utter inaction."

Francis, Dethmers said, testified

Catsup And Meat Points
To Take Drop

Washington, July 26 (P)—Six kinds of canned and bottled foods will cost more ration points beginning Sunday but citrus juice and catsup will have lower point value.

The OPA announced this tonight after ordering reductions in values in nearly all cuts of beef, veal and lamb for the period from Sunday through September 1.

New point values for the most widely used containers of the processed foods being changed are: Spinach—No. 2 cans, 30 points, up 10; No. 2½ cans, 50 points, up 20.

Asparagus—No. 2 cans, 30 points, up 10.

Applesauce—No. 2 cans, 20 points, up 10.

Apples—No. 2 cans, 20 points, up 10.

Apricots—No. 2½ cans, 50 points, up 20.

Grape juice—Pints, 40 points, up 10; quarts, 70 points, up 20.

Grapefruit juice—46-ounce cans, 10 points, down 10; No. 2 cans, 10 points for two cans, previously 10 points a can.

Tomato catsup and chili sauce—14-ounce containers, 10 points, down 10 points.

The cuts in meat point values were made possible, OPA said, by a boost of nearly 10 per cent in the August supply over current levels.

All but one of many reductions, effective from next Sunday through September 1 are one or two points a pound. The single exception is boneless rump of beef, which is down three points.

Most steaks are down two points, with one or two point cuts for roast, chops, and other cuts.

Point values on all pork cuts and other red point foods are being maintained.

TRUMAN VISITS
ARMY ON RHINEDuties Of Big Three Put Aside For Swing In Occupation Zone

Frankfurt-on-Main, July 26 (P)—President Truman put aside the momentous duties of the big three conference in Potsdam temporarily today and visited thousands of American troops in a swing through the Rhine valley to get a first hand view of the American occupation zone.

In brief impromptu talks the president promised to help the troops find the United States "as you like it and want it to be" when they return home and expressed the determination to implement the ideas of his "great predecessor," Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In less serious vein, he shook hands with hundreds of GIs, scores of them from his native Missouri, climbed in and out of his touring car dozens of times for reviews and informal chats, and played the piano in jazzy style. Afterward he commented: "A damn good piano."

Looking fresh and happy despite the 97 degree heat which wilted some others in his entourage, the president covered a 49-mile route after a 9-minute flight from Potsdam in the plane, "Sacred Cow."

Secretary of State Joseph Byrnes and Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, the president's military aide, flew in a separate C-54 transport. General Eisenhower accompanied the party on the tour.

More Men Needed
For Naval Repair
Projects On Coast

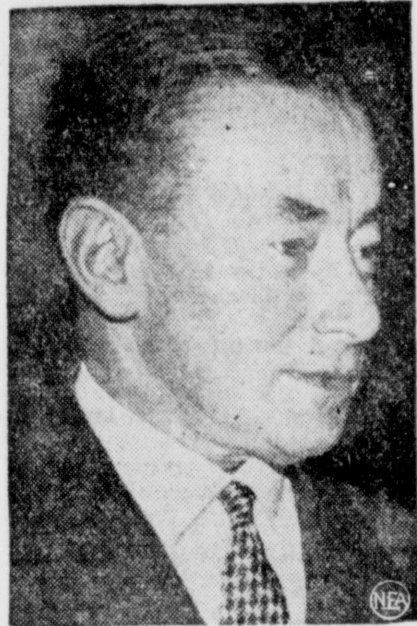

Detroit, July 26 (P)—Although lacking only 20 men in fulfilling the Michigan quota of 1,800 workers for the west coast Navy repair yards recruitment campaign, still further recruitment is necessary from this state, Edward L. Cushman, state manpower director, said.

Cushman was advised by the WMC regional director that many thousands more workers are needed at once in repairing shattered warships, victims of Jap suicide planes.

Crash Victim Falls
Out Window, Killed

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 26 (P)—Injured in an automobile crash on Washtenaw Road last week, Otto Kruse, of Ann Arbor, died at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital here Wednesday night, following a plunge from a hospital window.

It has not been determined whether death resulted from injuries received when his car crashed into a tree, or from the fall last night.

Murdered Sen. Hooper
Called Key Witness
In Three Graft Cases

BY CHARLES MARENTETTE

Battle Creek, Mich., July 26 (P)—Had he lived, Senator Warren G. Hooper probably would have been a state witness in at least three cases resulting from the Carr grand jury investigation into legislative graft, a witness testified Thursday shortly before the completion of testimony in the Hooper murder conspiracy case. Hooper was shot to death last January 11.

Ingham County Prosecutor Victor C. Anderson related Hooper's appearances before the grand jury and said he testified "about Frank D. McKay, Floyd Fitzsimmons and William Green in connection with the racing bill."

McKay is a Grand Rapids politician, Fitzsimmons a Bentsen Harbor sports promoter and Green is a former Republican state representative from Hillman.

Anderson testified that, in addition to linking the three men with the racing bill, Hooper named them in connection with "the highway bill." The highway bill was not further identified in the records.

Testimony in the conspiracy case was completed Thursday afternoon. Judge Blaine W. Hatch said arguments would be completed on Friday and Monday afternoon and that he would charge the jury Tuesday morning.

Anderson said he was present when Hooper appeared before the grand jury and that he also was present when the Albion senator made statements for the record before Kim Sigler, special prosecutor for the grand jury.

"Did Hooper have something to say on the banking bill?" Anderson was asked by Defense Attorney Edward H. Kennedy, Jr.

"He had something to say about it," yes," Anderson replied.

Rumors of graft in connection with the anti-banking bill are credited with leading to the grand jury investigation of the legislature. No indictments have been returned by the grand jury in connection with the banking bill.

Hooper was to have been a witness against McKay, Fitzsimmons and Green at their examination on a bribe conspiracy charge in connection with the racing bill on January 15, Anderson testified. The state has contended Hooper's murder was committed to silence Hooper because "he had talked too much."

AIRFIELD CITY
WON FOR CHINAJapanese Retreat North
Of Canton; Kweilin
Thrust Gains

Chungking, July 26 (P)—Chinese troops have seized a seventh former American airbase with capture of Nanyang in the important Wolfram mining district 150 miles northeast of Canton, the Chinese high command announced today.

Due west, other Chinese units punched to new points within six and eight miles of the triple airfield city of Kweilin, and fought in the streets of a ninth airbase city, Yangko, 45 miles to the south, a communique declared.

Nanyang, abandoned last Jan. 2 by the U. S. 14th Air Force, was the aerial starting point of shipments of the United States of Wolfram, a mineral vital in the production of war munition.

The Chinese won Nanyang, 65 miles southwest of Kanhsien, on Monday, and the enemy retreated westward toward Kukong, on the Canton Hankow railroad 125 miles north of Canton, the high command said.

Two hundred and fifty miles westward, Chinese troops struck yesterday to a point only six miles west of Kweilin, now apparently manned only by Japanese rearguards. On Tuesday, another Chinese column had won a position on the railroad only eight miles southwest of the city, and was reported stabbing on toward Kweilin. Langkiang, 12½ miles west of the city, was taken Tuesday, the Chinese said.

The high command declared its forces on Wednesday also captured the railroad town of Yungfu, 32 miles southwest of Kweilin, which had been a main stumbling block to the advance of the principal Chinese units of Kweilin.

LIQUOR QUOTA UNCHANGED

Lansing, July 26 (P)—There will be no change in liquor rationing during August and Ration Stamp No. 5 will be valid for one quarter, one-fifth or two points of whisky, the State Liquor Control Commission announced today. Gin, rum, brandy, wines and cordials remain unrationed.

LABOR PARTY
WINS BRITISH WAR ELECTIONATTLEE WILL FORM
NEW GOVERNMENT
FOR ENGLAND

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

London, July 26 (P)—Britain's Labor Party, advocating a socialist program for national reconstruction, stunningly defeated Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative regime today, and King George VI tonight commissioned Labor leader Clement R. Attlee to form a new government.

Churchill, doughty war leader from Britain's darkest hour to final victory in Europe, had presented his resignation to the king at Buckingham Palace just a few minutes earlier.

With votes in 627 of Britain's 640 constituencies counted, the Laborites and allied parties had captured 417 seats, against 210 for the Conservatives and their allies. Labor candidates had won 390 contests, Conservatives only 195. Results of the remaining 13 contests will not be made known until early in August.

Attlee told a cheering, tumultuous mass meeting of his followers tonight that "the first thing we have to do is to finish the war with Japan."

"We are embarked," he cried, "on a great adventure of democracy, freedom and social justice."

Tokyo Nearing End

Simultaneously the outgoing Churchill, in a farewell statement to the nation as premier, declared that victory over Japan may come "much quicker than we have hitherto been entitled to expect."

"The decision of the British people has been recorded in the votes counted today," he said. "I have therefore laid down the charge which was placed upon me in darker times."

"I regret that I have not been permitted to finish the work

FOUNDRY BURNS
AT GLADSTONEChatfield Plant Total
Loss; Was Working On War Orders

A spectacular fire last night completely destroyed the Chatfield Foundry at Gladstone, which has been engaged in turning out war orders.

The fire was first discovered about 10:30 p. m. and in a very short time the wooden frame building on North Ninth street was a mass of flames. The loss included equipment and patterns for castings.

The casting furnace at the plant had been in operation, and the last cast was run off about 8 p. m., firemen learned. Their theory was that the fire was caused in some manner by the casting furnace.

No estimate of the damage was available last night.

Fastest U. S. Plane
Ready For Action
Against Japanese

Inglewood, Calif., July 26 (P)—North American Aviation, Inc., announced today that America's fastest propeller-driven plane, named the P-51H Mustang, has been in production for months and is now ready for action in the far Pacific.

The company said the new plane was designed to meet the army air forces' demand for a fighter with more speed, longer range and higher ceiling for exacting Pacific combat conditions.

Although exact performance figures are secret, the war department permitted the company to disclose that the P-51H will travel "over 400 miles an hour," has a combat range of "over 2,000 miles," and will operate efficiently "up to 42,000 feet."

Tecumseh, Mich., July 26 (P)—Expected to bring $7,552 at current market prices, Tecumseh's 230 acres of "dynamic kernels," developed from an original wheat planting five years ago of a cubic inch of grain, was harvested this week by two score of combines.

With the total yield placed at 4,888, arrangements for an additional 4,000 acres of land for next year's planting are being made.

The customary title of 10 per cent will go to the Tecumseh Friends church, which will use it for needed equipment at the Tecumseh hospital.

Chevrolet Workers
Vote For Walkout

Bay City, Mich., July 26 (P)—Balloting 836 to 44, employees of the Chevrolet parts plant here, member of Local 362, United Automobile Workers (CIO), voted in favor of a strike yesterday under the National War Labor act.

The workers claimed that the management refused to bargain on shift preference and also speeded up production of automobile parts. No statement was issued by the management.

Seven Million Men
To Knock Out Japan
In One Great Blow

Washington, July 26 (P)—The United States army revealed plans today to deploy 7,000,000 soldiers for one gigantic knockout punch unless Japan heeds the Potsdam ultimatum to surrender or be destroyed.

Gen. Jacob L. Devers, new chief of army ground forces, told a news conference that he hoped to get 7,000,000 men "redployed against the Japanese in a single blow."

"There's no use doing it piecemeal," he said.

The 7,000,000 total will be approximately size of the army after partial demobilization. Devers explained that he did not mean the whole 7,000,000 will actually be on the firing line. Millions will be in the service of supply and

SHANGHAI IS HIT
BY 300 PLANESAirdromes Are Smashed;
Jap Fighters Come Out Of Hiding

BY SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, Friday, July 27 (P)—More than 300 Far East Air Force bombers smashed Shanghai's airdromes Wednesday, setting raging fires while other units of Gen. MacArthur's air forces returned to the attack on Japan.

Japan's hoarded fighter planes came out of hiding for the first time in weeks and intercepted Liberators as they swept in over northern Kyushu where the important air center of Tsuiki was left wrapped in flames and rocked by repeated explosions.

The attack on Shanghai's network of airdromes was the fourth heavy raid in a week on that base of Japan's waning air power on the Asiatic mainland.

Other heavyweights from bases on Okinawa cratered runways on Kikai island in the Ryukyus south of Kyushu.

For once the Japanese offered battle, and seven of 30 interceptors that rose to challenge the bombers were shot down. One American bomber was lost.

Nipponese To Be
Cityless Nomads,
Doolittle Warns

BY AL DOPKING

Guam, Friday, July 27 (P)—More than 350 American B-29s fire bombed three Japanese cities today in the third raid in four days of a blazing campaign which Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle declared would turn Nippon into a nation of cityless nomads.

A medium-sized force of Superforts struck before dawn, raining more than 2,200 tons of incendiaries on the industrial centers of Omuta, Matsuyama and Tokuyama, all in southwestern Japan. The city previously was hit June 18.

Matsuyama and Tokuyama got their first baptism of American fire. They were hit previously with demolition bombs.

The before-dawn attack by the Marianas-based Superforts of the 20th Air Force followed a raid by 100 of the big bombers Wednesday night on oil plants near Tokyo and the record 625-plane mission Tuesday against the Osaka-Nagoya area.

Doolittle made his prediction on Okinawa.

Devastated Tokyo
Made Into Garden

San Francisco, July 26 (P)—The Japanese say 15,000 acres of Tokyo have been devastated by bombing and so they are going to plant vegetable gardens on them.

Furthermore, the Japanese apparently figure that Tokyo has been so well burned over by Superforts that they won't need water reservoirs originally built for fire protection and so they are going to raise "hogs, and ducks and carp" in them.

BIG 3 OFFERS
TOKYO CHANCE TO HALT WARTERMS UNCHANGED; DESTRUCTION IS ALTERNATIVE

By Edward D. Ball

Potsdam, July 26 AP—The United States, Britain and China demanded tonight that Japan "proclaim now the unconditional surrender of all Japanese armed forces" or undergo "prompt and utter destruction."

In an historic joint ultimatum, President Truman, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and retiring Prime Minister Churchill asserted they "have conferred and agreed that Japan shall be given the opportunity to end this war."

Clearly stating "our terms" under such surrender, the proclamation declared "we will not deviate from them. There are no alternatives; we shall brook no delay."

Gigantic Blow Coming
Greater and more terrible Allied armed might than conquered Germany now is "poised to strike the final blows at Japan," it asserted.

The terms demanded:
Limiting Japanese sovereignty to the four major Japanese home islands "and such minor islands as we determine—carrying out the Cairo declaration.

Elimination of Japanese leaders who embarked on world conquest, and destruction of Japanese war-making power.

Occupation of Japanese territory until a new order "of peace, security and justice" shall be established.

"We do not intend that the Japanese shall be enslaved as a race or destroyed as a nation," the proclamation asserted, "but stern justice shall be meted out to all war criminals, including those who have visited cruelties upon our prisoners."

Japanese military forces, after being disarmed, "shall be permitted to return to their homes with the opportunity to lead peaceful and productive lives," the document promises.

Peace Industries To Stay
Further, "Japan shall be permitted to maintain such industries as will sustain her economy and permit the payment of just reparations in kind, but not those industries which will enable her to rearm for war."

"The occupying forces of the Allies shall be withdrawn from Japan as soon as these objectives have been accomplished and there has been established in accordance

Escanaba has an opportunity to obtain two new industries provided adequate buildings can be found here to house them, Gust Asp, new chairman of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, stated yesterday.

The owner of a tool and die plant, employing about forty persons in Detroit, wants to locate in Escanaba. He came here yesterday to confer with the industrial committee and to look at possible factory sites.

A Chicago concern, engaged in the manufacture of prefabricated fencing, rustic furniture and wooden novelties, also would like to locate here to be closer to its market supply. After the war, the manufacturer plans to expand his operations to include the making of log cabins. The two leads will be followed up by the industrial committee, Chairman Asp said.

A Chicago resident was here yesterday looking for a retail business site since he has made up his mind he wants to reside in Escanaba permanently.

It also was demanded that "the Japanese government shall remove all obstacles to the revival of Democratic tendencies among the Japanese people. Freedom of speech and religion and of thought, as well as respect for fundamental human rights shall be established."

The proclamation was drawn in Potsdam by Truman and Churchill and submitted to Chiang, who promptly concurred, it was announced.

The document will be broadcast to the Japanese people in every way possible by the OWI, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said.

White House Puts Crimp In Junket Plans Of Congress

Washington, July 26 (P)—The White House put a damper today on "junket" plans of many members of congress who had hoped to spend the congressional recess touring the world.

In effect the president said stay home or pay your own expenses unless the trip has formal approval of congress.

An estimated 100 house members had arranged official and unofficial foreign tours between now and the re-opening of congress on October 8. Just how many will be affected by President Truman's directive on the subject was uncertain.

Strikes Will Stop B-29 Raids Unless They End Quickly

Washington, July 26 (P)—Acting Secretary of War Patterson said tonight that airplane worker strikes in Chicago and New Jersey will stop the B-29 attack on Japan unless the men go back to work at once.

Thus, he said, the strikes will be doing something the entire Japanese empire has been trying unsuccessfully to achieve.

Patterson said in a statement: "The entire Japanese empire has been unable to stop the heavy B-29 attacks on Japanese war industries, but the strikes at the Wright aeronautical plant at the Paterson, N. J., and Dodge division of the Chrysler Corporation in Chicago will stop those attacks unless the strikes are terminated at once."

Some 18,000 workers are out at the Chicago plant. A union spokesman said grievances have accumulated.

At Paterson, N. J., part of 30,000 striking workers at five Wright plants shouted down back-to-work pleas of CIO executives.

Third Fleet Action Hidden By Silence; 24 Jap Warships Hit

BY MURLIN SPENCER

Guam, Friday, July 27 (P)—Radio silence cloaked the activities and whereabouts of Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet today as Allied strikes against the Japanese empire were confined to land-based aerial attacks.

The last report on the great American and British force which smashed at the Japanese fleet remnants Tuesday and against bases on the Inland Sea Wednesday was contained in yesterday's communiqué, which said Wednesday's action was limited to hitting small vessels and damaging ground installations because of extremely bad weather.

Admiral Nimitz' communiqué today made no mention of Halsey's fleet.

Twenty-four of Japan's warships, including 14 carriers, battleships and cruisers, were damaged within a week—20 of them Tuesday.

FOURTH BLAST ABOUT PRISON VICE AWAITED

he knew of most of the alleged irregularities in the institution but ignored them because Jackson and Pettit continually by-passed him. Pettit, was accused by Dethmers, on the basis of testimony, of drunkenness in the prison, entertaining inmates in his home, of telling a witness to "keep his mouth shut" about clothes Poirier is supposed to have provided Joseph D. Medley when he escaped last Nov. 27, of not notifying the deputy warden for eight hours after Medley got away, of trying to hamper the attorney general's probe and of allowing the sweetheart of a "privileged inmate" to live at his home.

Poirier, Dethmers said, supplied Medley with a suit of civilian clothes in which he made his escape, the attorney general listed various charges of undue familiarity, drinking with and entertaining inmates in his discussion of the cases of Poirier.

Perversion In Gymnasium

The attorney general declared a witness testified that the prison gymnasium was the center of sexual perversion, gambling and contraband for the institution. Wilson was accused of a number of irregularities, such as taking an inmate to a ball game in Detroit, and that he covered up an official frame up of a prison guard.

Dethmers singled out Watson as an official "who played a major part in the highly improper classification" of some inmates and accused Watson of being present in a bar with inmate Raymond Fox and Poirier immediately after Judge W. Mc Kay Skillman of Detroit made Fox eligible for parole by reducing his sentence.

Waton, the attorney general declared, "viciously attacks" the policies of the corrections department and its officials, used profane language before the investigation board, and was entirely out of sympathy with the policies laid down by the commission and Heyns.

Heyns, Dethmers said, was "re-miss" in not checking up on Warden Jackson after information of improper conditions was called to the warden's attention.

Dethmers said Heyns appeared to "erred on the side of having relied too much on the warden."

The attorney general said, however, that Heyns had been over-loaded by the commission's refusal to fill the post of assistant director in charge of assistant director he found no indications of improper administration in either the bureau of pardons and paroles, the bureau of probation, the Marquette branch prison or the Ionia reformatory, all of which come under Heyns' supervision.

Escanaba Man's Brother Given Legion Of Merit

Lt. Col. William M. Collins of Detroit, a brother of Cecil Collins 113 North Fourteenth street, Escanaba, was awarded the Legion of Merit last week for meritorious service as confidential aide to Lt. Gen. William Knudsen in the Office of the Director of Production.

General Knudsen, who has retired to civilian life as a General Motors Corporation director, witnessed the ceremony. Also present was Mrs. Collins and their daughter, Dorothy Lee.

Col. William H. McCarty, commanding officer of District 1, Sixth Service Command, made the presentation at the federal building in Detroit in behalf of Maj. Gen. David McCoach Jr., commander of the Sixth Service Command.

Colonel Collins served with General Knudsen from May, 1942, to May, 1945. He was credited with helping stimulate manufacturers through his initiative, energy, executive ability, expert knowledge of business procedure and untiring application to duty.

He is now secretary of the GMC administration committee.

Colonel Collins was born in Ishpeming, and was graduated from the Negaunee high school in 1926. Following his graduation, he found a job as a stenographer in the employment office of the General Motors corporation and attended night school. He left that position and worked for a steel concern and later was cashier for the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company. He then returned to work for General Motors and was assistant to the personal secretary of William Knudsen, later taking over the secretaryship.

As confidential aide to General Knudsen during his war service Colonel Collins attended many important conferences, including one attended by the late President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Common Labor Strikes At Dock Wrecking Job

A strike involving the common laborers employed on the dismantling of the government ore dock here forced suspension of operations yesterday morning, but it is expected that differences involving overtime pay will be settled shortly.

Common laborers, members of the International Laborers union, affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, walked off the job shortly before noon yesterday after their representative, Pat Brady, of Detroit, business agent of the union, failed to get a commitment from the Wrecking Corporation of America for the payment of time and a half for overtime labor.

Mr. Brady reported yesterday that the company has been paying time and a half for workers in the skilled categories, but declined to pay time and a half for the common laborers, who represent about two-thirds of the total number of men employed on the project. There are approximately 125 men employed on the job, of which 81 are common laborers.

Brady further declared that the wage stabilization act requires payment of time and one half when federal funds are involved.

Mr. G. L. Sogg, representative of the company, agreed to pay time and one half for labor on the project in the future, Brady said, but declined to make the provision retroactive to the start of operations. The workers will not return to the job until this guarantee is established, the labor representative said.

The workers reported on the job at seven a. m. as usual yesterday, but quit work at 7:30 o'clock. They returned to work, at the request of Army officials, Brady said, pending negotiations for settlement of the strike. When a commitment for time and a half payment was not made in the resulting conference, the men walked off the job shortly before noon.

1 OF EVERY 4 BOUGHT RIVERSIDES

Before the war, when truck tires were freely available, when truck owners still could choose the brand they wanted, 1 of every 4 of the biggest operators were big users of Riversides! Remember, these big "fleet" operators keep a mileage record on every tire. They know from their records that Riversides give more miles-per-dollar. So they buy Riversides! And more Riversides! Take a tip from these operators who know which tires stand up best. Put Riversides on your car. You, too, will get more miles-per-dollar, more protection against blow-outs, and more miles-of-safety! Today, Riversides are actually stronger than Wards pre-war tires! Stronger because Riversides' cords are stronger to begin with; then chemically-strengthened to make your tire last longer, and lessen the possibility of a blow-out!

Get Ready for the Boom!

THE Railway Business Association has completed a nation-wide travel survey, which indicates that Michigan will experience a $74,000,000 increase in tourist business in the first year after the war. This would increase the state's tourist income from a prewar figure of $218,322,000 to $292,551,000, and by the fourth year would reach $342,765,000.

These figures are based on the assumption that Michigan will receive its proportionate share of the increase of postwar travel in the nation as a whole. But since this state is one of America's outstanding vacationlands it is to be expected that it would fare better than the average.

What does this mean to the Upper Peninsula? It indicates that we shall also be experiencing a healthy spurt in tourist travel after the war, and resorts and communities in this region should be laying plans for taking full advantage of the opportunities that will be presenting themselves.

First of all, we must be doing everything possible to make our communities attractive by repainting of homes, landscaping of public and private properties, and expanding recreational facilities, like parks, playgrounds and swimming beaches. Resort properties should be renovated, and plans made for providing better services for the guests. In short, we should offer in the Upper Peninsula what the vacationist finds in the Lower Peninsula, Maine, Wisconsin and other areas that have been successful in catering to tourists.

The Japs Want Peace, But—

EVERY "peace feeler" emanating from Japan these days, and some of them probably are authentic, indicates the dread by the Japanese of an invasion of their homeland. The latest report by way of Russia is that the Japs are ready to surrender under terms that will prevent not only invasion but also occupation of their country by American troops.

Surrender of the Japanese without occupation of their country is no surrender at all, and the American public would never tolerate any peace based upon this reservation. If the Japs are ready to surrender to avoid further wreckage of their homeland, undoubtedly the Allies are ready and willing to accept their surrender—unconditionally.

Occupation of Japan is a prerequisite to any acceptable surrender basis. The Japanese populace must be taught that they have lost the war, and this can be accomplished only by American troops in control of the economic and political affairs of the Japanese homeland—in person and not in absentee.

The idea of surrender without occupation, of course, is designed to save face so the Japs can continue to rant that their homeland has never been invaded or occupied by a hostile force. The effect of this is to perpetuate the vicious by a hostile force. The effect of this is to perpetuate the vicious Sintoistic doctrine that Japan is the home of the gods and therefore immune from invasion. This is the sort of thing that makes the Japanese so arrogant and feeds their war machine.

It may be presumed that the Japanese war lords, now fully cognizant of the fact that they have lost the war, will press for a soft peace, particularly one that will leave them free to continue to rule without interference. Naturally, no American in his right senses will accept anything like that.

Petain on Trial

TESTIMONY brought out in the trial of Marshal Petain in Paris the past few days tends to reduce the lustre of the fame the aged soldier achieved in the first World War.

His refusal to reply to the prosecution's question as to whether he congratulated Adolf Hitler when British and Canadian troops suffered a heavy defeat on the Dieppe beach invasion put him in a bad light. He also remained silent to the charge he had requested the Fuehrer's permission to use French troops to fight alongside the Germans against the Allies.

The 89-year-old Petain is a case of a man who was too old for the tremendous responsibilities that faced him in World War II. Rapidly moving events had passed him by, and he still lived in the days of old. He was something of a monarchist, and it was known he had no sympathy with the ideals and aspirations of the Third French republic.

It is altogether possible that Petain, in his dotage, had dreamed of returning France to authoritarian rule, and thought connivance with the Nazi aggressors would somehow make this possible. Doubtless, he realized his mistake too late. His advanced age made him too weak, physically and morally, to resist Nazi pressure. Consequently, he was used by the designing Hitler as the head of a puppet Vichy government.

Marshal Petain, now fighting to save what is left of his long life, is trying to justify his collaboration with the enemy with the argument that he thought he was doing what was best for France. He might have died a hero, revered by Frenchmen as their savior in World War I instead of a traitor in World War II, if he had been placed on pension at a normal retirement age.

New Cars in Field

MOST interesting news in the automobile field this week was the announcement that Joseph W. Frazer, president of Graham-Paige, and Henry J. Kaiser, Pacific coast shipbuilder, are teaming up for the manufacture of motor cars after the war.

One significant aspect of the development is that the partnership will reverse the long-time trend to concentrate production of automobiles in the Detroit area. The new corporation will manufacture a low-cost Kaiser car on the coast, while a medium-priced Frazer will be turned out in Detroit.

There is much difference between building ships on government contract and manufacturing automobiles to sell to in a highly competitive civilian market. Apparently, Shipbuilder Kaiser recognized this problem, and wisely allied himself with Frazer, who has had years of experience in the automotive field. The competition between the old and new magnates in the motor industry will arouse much interest, but it should make for some good bargains for the motoring public.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Paul M. Herzog is a young man who has just taken on a load of trouble. As the new chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, he steps into one of the hottest spots of government.

Not only has there been a bitter controversy within the board, but the board in its turn has been feuding with the National War Labor Board. NLRB accused WLB of ignoring one of the most important functions of NLRB, which is to hold elections to determine the bargaining agent in a plant.

At one point, NLRB moved to give employers the right to petitions for an election—a right which they do not have today except when there is a jurisdictional dispute. Such a regulation was proposed when it appeared that the War Labor Board was going ahead to order collective bargaining long after the union in question had lost a majority of the workers in the industry.

This brought the labor unions, and especially the CIO, down on the NLRB like a ton of bricks. So strong was the opposition at the first hearing that Harry A. Millis, who preceded Herzog as chairman, withdrew the proposed regulation.

—TRUMAN GAVE APPOINTMENT—

In this connection, an interesting bit of political by-play preceded Herzog's appointment. Millis, who had been trying for some time to resign, found in the early spring that he could not obtain an appointment with President Roosevelt. That was in the period before and after Yalta, when the late President was increasingly preoccupied with foreign affairs and handicapped by illness.

With the advent of Harry Truman, Millis was promptly given an appointment. He explained that age and overwork compelled him to retire. Then he named a candidate to be his successor. Millis' candidate had previously been approved by those within the CIO who actually run that powerful organization.

Word of this reached Democratic National Chairman Robert Hannegan. He told the President he believed it would be desirable to find a head for NLRB whose connections with the CIO were not so close. The President agreed with Hannegan.

That was the reason Herzog was taken out of the navy and dropped into the NLRB hot seat. He was formerly chairman of the New York State Labor Relations Board.

The struggle for domination of NLRB in the past few years has been intense. There has been constant gossip of labor leaders passing in and out of the offices of NLRB members, dropping "advice" where it would be most useful.

Because of the independent line has taken, NLRB member Gerald Reilly has been repeatedly vilified and abused by the CIO. Reilly has frequently been in opposition to Millis and John M. Houston, the third board member. This split, and the personal bitterness it aroused, has been exploited by both wings of organized labor.

—TRADE UNION WEAKNESS—

That, it seems to me, is one of the great weaknesses of the trade unions at this moment, when the sound of knives being whittled on both sides of the industrial fence is ominously loud. Labor politicians have spent too much time and money playing power politics in Washington—time and money which might better have been spent in doing a grass roots job of organization to help the unions stand up against the big wind certain to blow when the war is over.

It is only thorough, cohesive organization that, in the last analysis, can hold a trade union together. Power wielded from Washington tends to vanish as, in fact, it may be vanishing now with a shift in the political tide.

The tendency has been to rely on agencies such as NLRB—in other words, to use the government as a crutch. That works out all right for a time. But it leads to dependence on outside support.

Herzog in his first days in office has made a good impression. In the first two cases to come up for a vote since he took over, he has voted in one instance with Reilly and in the other with Houston. Above all, he wants to establish the unity of the board. This does not mean that the three will vote alike, but that when there are dissents, they will be recognized as an honest exercise of judgment and not as mere partisanship.

That is a good approach to an unhappy situation.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Secretary of State Jimmy Byrnes already has two key men up his sleeve for top jobs in the state department. Unless something changes his mind before he gets back from Potsdam, the new under secretary of state, replacing Joe Grew, will be Spruille Braden, now U. S. Ambassador to Argentina; while the assistant secretary for Latin America, replacing Nelson Rockefeller, will be Norman Armour, now U. S. Ambassador to Spain.

The promotion of Braden to be under secretary will be a direct slap at the Argentines, where crowds have been booing Braden and hand-bills have been posted all over Buenos Aires denouncing him because of an accident in the Braden copper mines in Chile.

Braden is a political diplomat with plenty of career experience. He worked on the fringes of the old Roosevelt brain trust in 1932, and FDR considered appointing him Ambassador to Chile in 1933. However, there was too much resentment from Chilean labor because of Braden's heavy copper interests there and he was given one of the hardest diplomatic jobs in the Western Hemisphere instead. He was made a diplomatic trouble-shooter to iron out the Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay, and other troubles in the Western Hemisphere. Later, Braden became Ambassador to Colombia and Cuba where he did an A-1 job.

Norman Armour, slated to succeed Nelson Rockefeller, is one of the outstanding career diplomats, having been Ambassador to Argentina and Chile, and Minister to Canada and Haiti. When Braden leaves Argentina as Ambassador, his post will not be filled—a slap at the Argentine Fascists, and also indirectly at the state department group who rushed us into Argentine recognition at San Francisco.

—ENGLAND'S EX-KING—

There were half a dozen empty chairs last week as High Fulton, former counsel for the Truman committee, hosted a luncheon in Washington's swank Hotel Statler for the Duke of Windsor. Fulton, whose New York law firm represents the Duke's interests in this country, had invited a small group of high Washington officials and the entire membership of the Mead committee (formerly the Truman committee) at the Duke's special request.

Half a dozen busy senators found time to rush to the Statler for the luncheon, which they described as a pleasant affair with no particular significance.

High spot of the luncheon was furnished by Wyoming's Senator Joe O'Mahoney, who produced a letter from an Episcopalian minister in his state. The letter related the plight of an Englishman who had married an American woman and settled in Wyoming. The Englishman now wants to be naturalized, the Minister wrote, but is running into difficulty because his wife is determined to press charges of assault against him.

If he didn't beat his wife, he should have, the Minister wrote O'Mahoney.

The letter was shown to the Duke, who remarked:

"I can testify that the Church of England is peculiar about domestic life. Here is a minister of the church in apparent approval of domestic disharmony. Yet when I decided to marry, the Church of England insisted that I step down as King because my wife-to-be had been divorced.

"The amusing thing to me," continued the former King of England, "is that the Church of England was originally founded by Henry VIII in order to provide clerical sanction for his several divorces."

NOTE—King Henry VIII had six wives.

—SOLDIER SLAP-DOWN?—

Another Paton soldier slap-down by a lesser scale has just been settled by General Eisenhower, resulting in a reprimand for Brig. Gen. Julius Slack.

General Slack, an artillery commander in Patton's Third Army, was reprimanded for "intemperate and reprehensible actions and language" toward 22 enlisted men in an alleged rape case.

Slack had accused three enlisted men of taking two German women, at the point of their guns, upstairs in a German house, where other men watched the rape.

But according to Vpt. Walter M. Coulter of Providence, R. I., General Slack acted "on the word of two German women who are without doubt as fanatical as the German army that we have given the best years of our lives to defeat.

"We were taken to headquarters, 204th Field Artillery Battalion, where we had the most insulting talk delivered to us that we ever had to endure. General Slack called us a bunch of dirty—two or three times. He told the three men accused of rape that he would personally see that they were hanged and underground within 30 days. He also said that his judge advocate had never lost a case and would not lose this one."

But when fair-minded Senator Theodore Green of Rhode Island heard about this, he asked Under Secretary of War Patterson for an investigation. General Eisenhower, in turn, ordered a full report by the inspector general, on the basis of which Eisenhower reported that he was reprimanding General Slack, though he added the General "has a long record of arduous and efficient battle service."

The enlisted men accused in the case were court-martialed, and all 22 who were present at the scene were acquitted.

Too many reformers who set out to right the world's wrongs wind up wronging the world's right.

Oh-for the good old days when the neighbors' chickens used to stray into our garden!

We're not only willing to share our food with certain countries, but also our war in the Pacific!

City life has its good points—but so many aren't valid until long after we need them.

STICK IN A HORNET'S NEST

(Sault Ste. Marie News)

Mayor Maurice E. Hunt's letter to the State Tax Commission for an investigation of Chippewa county's assessments was a stick in a hornet's nest.

It is the beginning of a swarm of arguments, arguments that have been kept mostly under the surface among members of the city commission and board of supervisors. For 10 years both bodies have been waiting for somebody with gumption enough to do what Hunt did.

And yet what the mayor did appears to be simply a matter of right and wrong. If the assessments in Chippewa county—including the city and the various townships—are all right, then things remain as they are and nobody will be hurt. If they are wrong, they should be corrected and that's that.

The feeling that the Sault is under-assessed is held by some rural supervisors, and the other feeling is held by city supervisors that rural areas are under-assessed. The matter has been boiling for some time. A virtual schism exists on some points on the board, with the city supervisors very much in the minority. The majority could do practically as it pleased with assessments.

To abate this ill-feeling, Mayor Hunt stuck a stick in the hornet's nest and all are waiting to see what comes out.

Frankly, there are many who hope the state commission will find it necessary to boost the assessment substantially but equitably. For instance, Sault Ste. Marie at its present equalized assessment is very near the limit of its tax levying powers under the state tax limitation law. It is hard to see where the Sault could do anything about postwar program bonds.

On the other hand, boosting the assessment does not necessarily mean boosting taxes.

The city will derive as much revenue from property valued at $2,000 with a tax rate of 10 mills, as it will from property valued at $1,000 with a tax rate of 20 mills. The point is the municipality cannot under state law levy a tax over 15 mills. When a city operates close to its tax levying power, bonds are hard or impossible to sell.

The opposition view, of course, is that when a municipality has a high assessment and a wide margin for levying taxes, the temptation is to levy and to spend.

THE CIRCUS—Arthur Brothers circus made its initial trip to Escanaba and other cities in this area under a cloud of adverse publicity. This critical publicity came as the result of a "circus war" in which Arthur Brothers was involved on the West Coast.

E. C. Coe, an Arthur Brothers spokesman, said here that one of the opposition circuses was Daley Brothers, which played in Escanaba last year.

One reason attendance at the Arthur Brothers circus in Escanaba was light was because of the bad flavor left here from last year by Daley Brothers. After Daley Brothers pulled their tent stakes, local police heard many complaints of price gouging, violation of OPA ceiling prices, failure to publish general admission prices, and dissatisfaction with the poor type of entertainment offered.

In comparison, Arthur Brothers published its general admission prices. The acts in the main show were clean, lively, and altogether superior to the entertainment offered by Daley Brothers last year. The reserved seat section had chairs, whereas Daley Brothers provided narrow boards.

Altogether Arthur Brothers put out a pleasing wartime show. But the wide circulation of adverse publicity by opposing circuses, and the bad flavor left by Daley Brothers from last year, cut attendance to a low level.

CAUGHT OUT ON ICE—Under that title Sports Afield for August presents an article by Clay Perry on the four Fayette fishermen who in Jan. 1944, drifted for 15 hours on an ice cake before their rescue by the Coast Guard cutter Sweetgum.

The story is that of John Rochefort, his younger brother, Henry and John's two sons, Delor and Edward. John Rochefort, 52, died of exposure before the rescue.

Clay Perry is known to many Delta county people, although his home is in Pittsfield, Mass. Perry first came to this county in 1941 when he covered the Gladstone Roleo for Saturday Evening Post. Since then he has been a consistent user of the Upper Peninsula scene for fact article and fiction stories.

WHEN THEY COME HOME—The boys from Northern Michigan who are now in military service are watching the local scene closer than many of us at home suspect. When they come home they want to find their towns, their homes and their fields and woods as they left them.

Witness a letter from Werner Palmquist of Delta county, now serving in Shore Patrol Headquarters, Seattle, Wash.

Dear Bugler:

Just a few lines from a conservation-minded serviceman.

Imagine a guy going fishing for a few days, or even less, and taking home a few extra, illegal-size ones for the cat. Just a few, you know—but suppose they all did that.

Maybe this same guy was lighting his pipe or cigarette threw the lighted match to the ground, causing a forest fire, damaging trees, destroying game.

This does happen. What we need is training to observe conservation and fire prevention laws. Biggest percentage of fires are caused by careless smokers, you know.

Irate Detroit housewives protested physically today against the high cost of living which resulted in high meat prices. Five hundred militant strikers, most of them honest citizens with legitimate complaints against exorbitant meat prices, attacked men leaving butcher shops and destroyed their parcels so that police were called and merchants slashed meat prices five per cent below normal.

Four masked robbers who attempted to hold up the Drake hotel, Chicago, during the fashionable afternoon tea hour, precipitated a battle between the robbers, hotel detectives, and policemen, resulting in the death of two of the robbers and the hotel cashier. Another of the robbers was captured and the fourth escaped in an automobile with $10,000.

Q & A Service

By WS Bureau

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) MAIL THIS COUPON and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. C., for a personal reply. Don't telephone; write as directed.

Q. What is the difference between compensation and pension?

A. Compensation is a term used to describe monetary benefits payable on account of service-connected death or disability resulting from service in World War I. Corresponding benefits payable on account of service other than World War I are termed "pensions." The latter term is also used to describe non-service-connected monetary benefits, including those payable to World War I veterans, their widows, and their children.

Q. After discharge from the service, how should a veteran pay premiums on his National Service life or other Government insurance?

A. By sending to the Collections Subdivision, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C., checks or money orders made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, as the premiums become due. The remittance should be accompanied by identifying information.

Q. A man starts out to travel two miles in his automobile. The first mile he goes at the rate of 30 miles per hour. What rate of speed must he maintain for the remainder of the distance in order to average 60 miles per hour for the entire trip?

A. To average sixty miles an hour the man must travel at an average speed of one mile per minute and therefore he must go two miles in two minutes. If he travels at the rate of 30 miles per hour, he consumes two minutes in traveling one mile. Therefore it is not possible for him to average 60 miles an hour for the distance of two miles, for the entire two minutes has been consumed in the first mile.

Q. In Stud Poker, if a card is exposed before the betting is finished, are any cards "buried"?

A. The dealer must bury one card for each player, including the exposed card.

Q. Where may I obtain the poem, "The Blind Men and the Elephant"?

A. It is contained in a booklet—"Favorite Poems"—a selected group of 28 famous and favorite poems—obtainable from our Washington Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., N. W., Washington 5, D. C., for ten cents.

Q. My brother has just been discharged from the Army after a long Pacific tour of duty. He soon will celebrate his tenth wedding anniversary. Can you suggest some appropriate gifts?

A. Tin gifts are appropriate, but they may be hard to find. Nevertheless, utensils such as measuring cups, cake tins, dish pans, flour sifters, kettle lids, funnels, spoons, waste baskets, and trays are suitable. A dinner or supper served from tin dishes on tin plates (if available) lends atmosphere to the party and small tin souvenirs tied with white satin ribbons are generally acceptable.

For extra flavor and nutrition add one-third cup chopped cooked ham or bacon to your regular cornstick recipe.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Overheard in a telephone conversation: "Well, can you tell me where I get ahold of her some place?"

There are several common mistakes in today's sentence: (1) "get ahold of her" for "get in touch with her;" (2) "where I can" for "how I may;" (3) use of the dubious (and, in this sentence, unnecessary) "some place," for "somewhere."

Avoid: "I lost my keys some place."

Better: "I lost my keys somewhere."

Avoid: "I couldn't find them any place."

'ON, WISCONSIN'

(Detroit Free Press)

Eagle River, Wis., is a town of about 1,500 souls in lake-studded Vilas County. Vilas adjoins Michigan's Upper Peninsula Gogebie.

Fired by wrath at Wisconsin's 82-year-old Gov. Walter S. Goodland, the editor of the Eagle River News Review wants to secede north Wisconsin from the commonwealth and get it attached to Michigan. The editor says Michigan spends more money on tourist advertising, has better roads and once "got rid of an aged governor" who allegedly bears some resemblance to Gov. Goodland.

We'd like more details. How many counties would be included? How many carloads of Wisconsin butter and cheese would be thrown in to boot? How about taxes? Would Gov. Goodland be part of the swap?

Moreover, the governor's reaction is suspect. Says the good gray Goodland cryptically, "The fundamental issue is that gambling is illegal in Wisconsin."

Does he mean that upright, righteous, highly moral, graft-free, gambling-hating Michigan would be getting something she wots not of?

Tell it not in Lansing! Publish it not in Macomb! Don't let Wayne hear about it! Lily-white Michigan couldn't stand the thought of such a prospect.

Before Pearl Harbor, the Japs liked the way we were delivering steel by ship. They don't like our present method.

Better: I couldn't find them anywhere.

Avoid: "She has no place to live."

Better: She has nowhere to live.

Avoid: "We have looked every place for him."

Better: We have looked everywhere for him.

Avoid: "He is somewhere in the Pacific."

Better: He is somewhere in the Pacific.

Avoid: "He was nowhere about."

Better: He was nowhere about.

Avoid: "Have you looked anywhere else?"

Better: Have you looked anywhere else?

Avoid: "She made friends everywhere she went."

Better: She made friends everywhere she went.

From G. L. B., Oakland: Please explain what is meant by "ad lib."

Answer: It's the abbreviation of the Latin phrase ad libitum, meaning, "at pleasure, at liberty." Among musicians and show people "ad lib." means "to insert a passage or remark that departs from or is in addition to the written part." Comedians, such as Fred Allen and Bob Hope, who are adept in extemporaneous witticisms, are known in show business as expert "ad libbers."

SPUDS AND DDT—Just how effective the wartime - developed DDT insecticide will be in combating bugs that attack potatoes is being made a matter of study by Michigan State College in a test plot on the George Larson farm at Danforth. Other new spray materials also are being tested.

DDT, incidentally, has been contracted to the initials to avoid the tongue-twisting full name of dichloro-diphenyl-trichloroethane.

A limited quantity of the DDT (an off-white powder) has been released to State College for the potato spraying experiments which are being conducted in nine U. P. counties. This is the first year the test has been made on a Delta county farm.

DDT has many uses as an insecticide. After the war you will be able to purchase it for use around your home, at your cottage on the shore to relieve you of the constant battle with insects.

Over at Mackinac Island, playground of Northern Michigan, DDT is being used in a war on flies and bugs. One reason the island has so many flies is the presence of a large number of carriage horses. Mackinac Island horse flies have no more respect for tourists than for horses, biting both indiscriminately.

—Clay Dunathan.

Dear Werner:

Thanks for the letter. It's very timely right now. Unfortunately too many people have the idea that conservation laws should be ignored in wartime. There's too much at stake to do that, as you have well pointed out.

Turin Soldier Tells Of Escaping Thrice From Prisoner Of War Camps

Pfc Joseph Gour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Gour, now home on 60 day furlough, yesterday revealed how he escaped three times from the Germans following his capture as a prisoner of war before he finally reached the Russian lines in Germany and was liberated.

Private Gour was captured in Germany Dec. 19, 1944 and was taken to Mulhberg. On a four day layover at Limberg, the railroad cars containing the war prisoners were bombed and strafed by the R.A.F. and a number of prisoners were killed and other prisoners were transferred to a camp near Dresden and were assigned to work in a furniture factory that was engaged in the manufacture of ammunition boxes.

Sentenced to Death
In February Gour and three companions escaped from the camp by walking out an unguarded side entrance and hid in the surrounding woods. Eventually, however, a German youngster spied the group and reported them to the authorities. A search with dogs resulted in their arrest and they were taken to another camp, also near Dresden, and were ordered to be shot by a German sergeant. As the men were being lined up for execution, however, a German captain, in charge of the detail arrived on the scene and rescinded the execution order.

On April evacuation of the camp to Czechoslovakia was ordered and the prisoners began marching. In the confusion of the march, Gour and a companion escaped into the woods. A half hearted search was instituted for them, but it lasted only a half hour and finally the columns of men went on.

Posing as Frenchmen, Gour and his companion traveled by day through the heavily wooded area, trying to reach Chemnitz and the American lines. At night they dug raw potatoes from the farm fields, potatoes that had been placed there for storage.

On one occasion the two Americans walked directly into a German gun position and talked to the German soldiers before they moved on, undetected.

Near Chemnitz, the two soldiers were hidden by Frenchmen in a barn, but the Germans moved into the same barn and Gour and his companion were betrayed by a Russian-made cigarette case, bearing an American flag, that Gour's companion had in his possession. The two men then were removed to another prisoner of war camp near Friburg, but the camp was in a state of confusion because of the impending collapse of Germany's war program, and within a week Gour escaped again. On May 4 he reached the Russian lines, where he was royally treated. The Russians provided transportation for him to the American lines 25 miles distant and on May 5 he was reunited with the American army. Later he returned to the United States for a 60 day furlough, after which he will go to Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Trenary

Trenary, Mich.—Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Arnold Iho, accompanied by Miss Annette Iho of Miami, Fla., left yesterday to visit in Chicago. From there Sgt. Iho will report to Camp Grant as his thirty day furlough ends.

PREPARE START OF REAPPRAISAL

Work In Townships To Be Completed By May 1, 1946

The J. M. Clemmshaw company is establishing offices in Gladstone city hall where it will maintain headquarters for the reappraisal of all taxable properties in the county's 14 townships, as well as the reappraisal of properties in Gladstone.

About four persons will be employed in the office, and about five other in the field, according to E. T. Wilkins, company representative. The work will be completed by May 1, 1946 in time for the county board's annual equalization meeting.

Ten thousand record cards are being printed for use of the appraisers in their work in the townships, Wilkins said. These record cards will, under present plans, be retained by the county in the court house in Escanaba. Townships may obtain duplicate sets by paying the cost of the copy work, according to plans previously announced.

The record cards will show the name of the owner, his address, a description of the property, total acres and whether there is road frontage. A history of transfers of ownership, and the consideration, also will be recorded.

Other information used in assessing rural property will include a description of the access road to the property, topography of the land—whether it is level, rolling, hilly or rough; the soil—loam, sandy, gravelly or clay, and drainage conditions. Average yield per acre on major crops also will be recorded.

Water supply will be considered whether good, fair or poor, and whether it is pumped by hand or by electricity.

The number of acres in house lot, tillable land, farm pasture, timber, orchard and waste will be recorded, together with their value as established by the township board of review.

On the appraisal of timber lands the company proposes to employ the services of a local man or men, familiar with conditions in the county and with timber land values, Wilkins said.

The farm buildings will be inspected and appraised on the basis of the construction, size, grade, age, condition, with their physical and functional depreciation taken into consideration.

There is space on the record card for a sketch of the land showing the location of the buildings and roads.

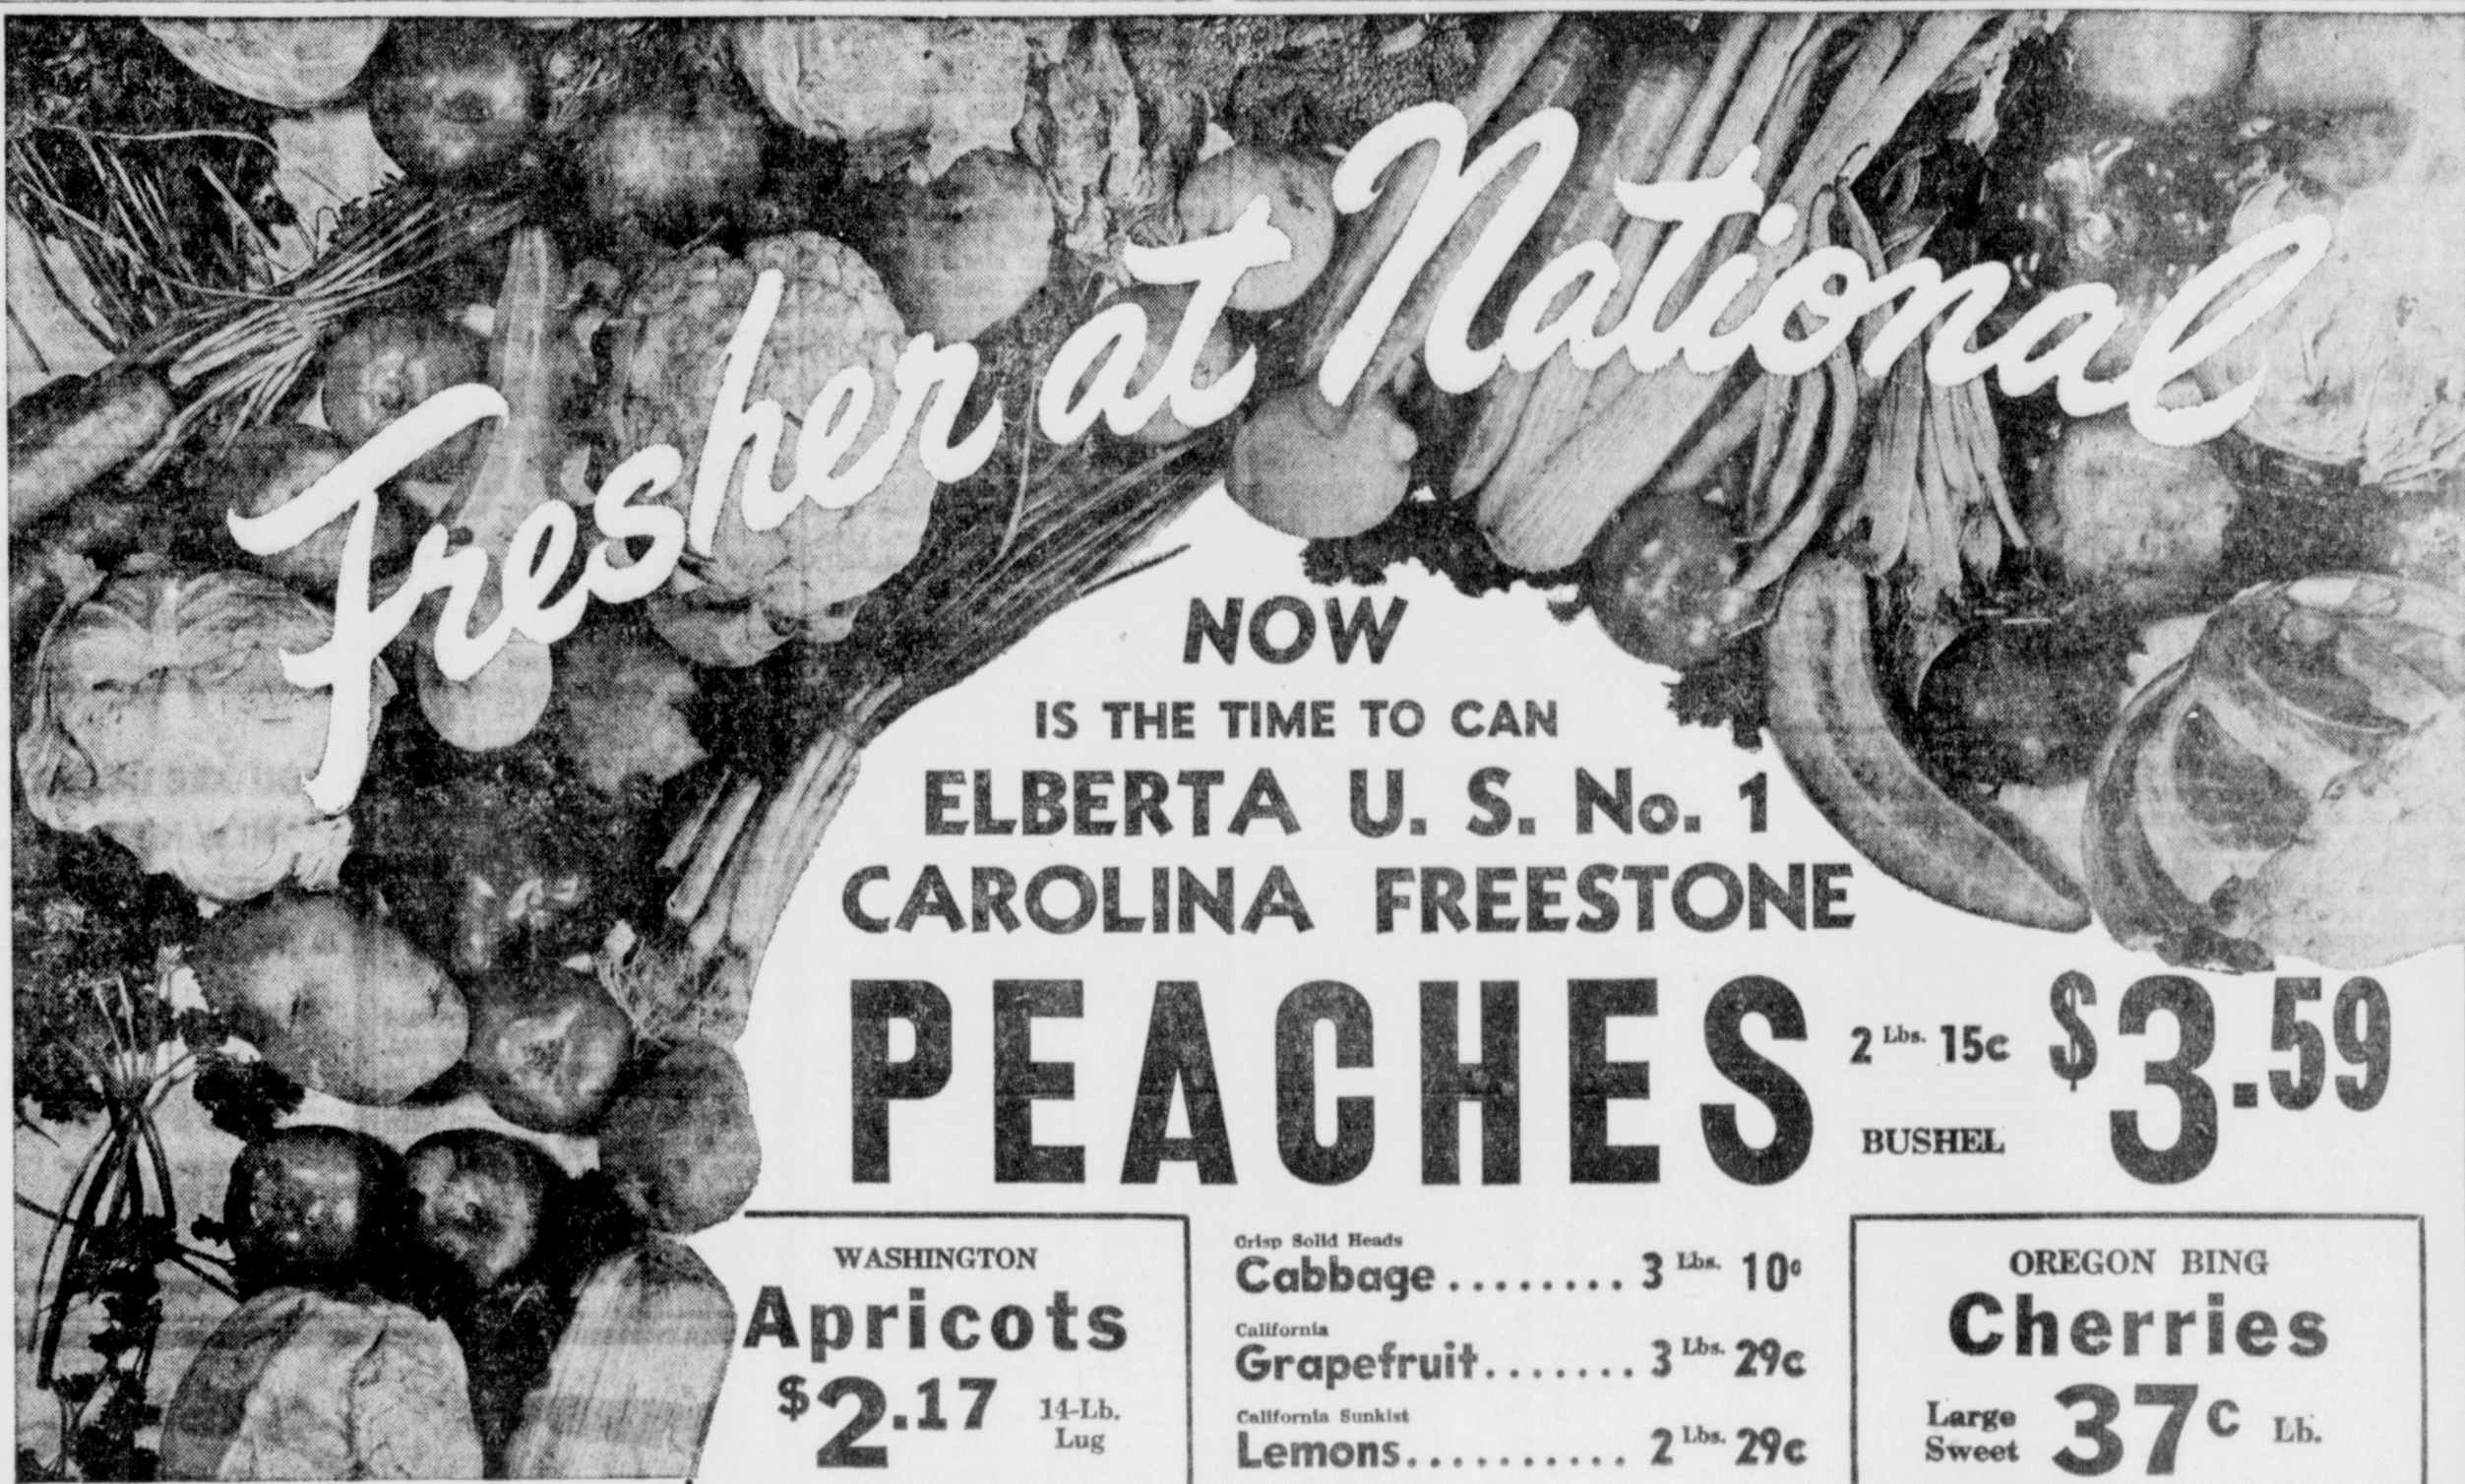

Dwellings will be appraised according to their construction and size. Recorded will be information on the type of foundation or basement; the walls of the house, roofing, floors, interior finish, and improvements.

Luther Knock, newly installed pastor of Bethany Lutheran, Ishpeming, was elected president of the Superior Conference Luther League, the council of which met Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of the Fortune Lake Bible camp, near Crystal Falls. He also was named chairman of a committee to plan the renovating of camp buildings and landscaping of the grounds. He will be assisted by the Revs. Gustav Lund, Escanaba, and Gunnar Goranson, Crystal Falls.

Other officers elected Tuesday are the Rev. J. Melvin Hedin, Stephenson, vice-president; Miss Doris Bailey, Menominee, secretary; Miss Arlene Kuntz, Marinette, treasurer; Miss Margaret Sealander, Iron Mountain, Pocket Testament League secretary; Miss Virginia Westman, Stambaugh, stationer, and the Rev. Mr. Goranson, camp manager. The latter, who has been camp manager for a year, was commended for exceptionally fine work.

The Misses Amy Johnson and Vendella Sundquist, of Escanaba, were chosen to compile a history, covering the last 10 years, of activities at the Bible Camp, enlarged recently by the addition of former CCC buildings.

It is these buildings which will be renovated after the war, when the council plans to engage an architect to redesign the camp layout and grounds.

"It is the hope of the council," the members were told at the meeting, "that the camp can be made into one of the best equipped in the country."

Thus far this summer the camp has been used by the Seventh Day Adventists and the Episcopal church; for a two weeks outing for children of Lutheran churches in the Superior Conference, and by some 125 young people from Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin Lutheran churches, who now are attending the Luther League week program.

Reporting at the meeting on activities of the Pocket Testament League, Miss Sealander, secretary the last three years, said the leagues in the Superior Conference were the first to enroll ten per cent of the membership in the Pocket Testament work—a goal set last year.

Some 50,000 young people of the Augustana Lutheran church in America and Canada are in the service, 1,881 of them from the Superior Conference, Miss Sealander said. Fifty members of the conference died in service since the outbreak of war and 14 are missing.

Luther Leaguers of the Iron Mountain district, who also held their annual meeting Tuesday at the camp, re-elected the Rev. C. Pontus Peterson, Metropolitan, president; Miss Sealander, vice-president and member, for a three-year term, of the council of the Superior Conference Luther League; Miss Ruth Gustafson, Iron Mountain, treasurer, and Miss Dolores Johnson, Iron River, Pocket Testament secretary. Miss Adria Trybom, Iron River, was elected secretary, to succeed Miss Ida Mae Orness, Iron Mountain.

The Iron River league, it was announced, is planning a rally for September.

Helen Santimore
Becomes Bride Of
Pfc. Wm. Harwood

At a quiet wedding which took place at the rectory of St. Patrick's church on July 23, Miss Helen Santimore, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Breault, 319 North 18th street, became the bride of Pfc. William E. Harwood, son of Mrs. William A. Harwood, 425 South Ninth street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Norbert Freiburger.

The bride wore a dress of pale blue silk crepe, with white accessories and elbow length gloves, and a corsage of white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Francis Santimore, who also wore a dress of light blue, with white accessories and pink carnations. Merle Potenhauer attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Breault chose for her daughter's wedding a black dress, with which she wore black accessories and pink carnations. Mrs. Harwood also wore black, with a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast for sixteen guests was served at the Sherman hotel. The couple left later for a wedding trip to Chicago, New York and Miami Beach, Fla. The bride wore a traveling costume of black and gold, with black accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Harwood attended Escanaba high school. The bride has been employed at the J. C. Penney store, and the bridegroom recently returned from overseas service in the European theater, where he was a prisoner of war.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Potenhauer of Appleton, Wis.

WILL EXPLAIN RE-APPRAISAL

Public Meeting At City Hall At 7:30 This Evening

Purpose of a property appraisal as contemplated in Gladstone, the manner in which it is made and what effect it has on the normal tax situation are to be explained at a public meeting to be held in the city hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Present to make the explanation to the assemblage will be J. M. Clemminshaw, head of the Cleveland firm of appraisal engineers which bears his name.

An official representative of the City of Escanaba which has already had the re-appraisal made and of Delta county which has entered into a contract to have the work done in the townships are expected to be present at the meeting.

The Gladstone city commission recently approved the reappraisal of local properties. However, recently there appeared to be some misunderstanding as to the purpose of the survey and for this reason signing of the contract has been held in abeyance until after the meeting tonight.

Work of reappraising the townships has already been started with the Clemminshaw company setting up their headquarters in the Gladstone city hall.

Edward A. Fish Is Awarded Bronze Star By The Navy

Edward A. Fish, machinist mate second class, United States Naval Reserve, has been awarded the Bronze Star at Fort Pierce, Fla., where he is now stationed.

Fish was a member of an Underwater Demolition team of the Seabees which prepared the way for landings at Saipan and Guam. He also participated in the pre-invasion operations at Tinian and Leyte.

The temporary citation issued from the Flagship of the Commander, Amphibious Forces, U. S. Pacific Fleet, over the signature of Vice Admiral R. K. Turner reads:

"For distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement in June and July, 1944, as a member of an assault unit during the assault and capture of Saipan and Guam Islands. In the face of enemy rifle, machine gun and mortar fire, he bravely prepared the way for the operations of combat troops and by his courageous devotion to duty contributed greatly to the success of these hazardous missions. His courage and conduct throughout were in keeping with the best traditions of the naval service."

A previous commendation issued to men and officers of U. D. T. No. 6 read in part:

"The organization of which you are a part was born out of the blood and misery of Tarawa. Without your work and that of the personnel of the other teams that have participated in this operation many more of our forces would have died on the beaches of Saipan, Guam and Tinian than died in trying to land at Tarawa. If that work had not been done many would also have been needlessly slaughtered because of the inability to get vital equipment ashore when and where it was needed."

"A high ranking Marine officer has stated that without the work done by these teams the attempted landings on Guam would have been disastrous failures. In consideration of the bravery which you have shown and of the skillful manner in which you have done your work, the commander of the Southern Attack Force has recommended that each officer and man of the teams participating in the Guam operation be awarded the Bronze Star. Such recognition of the work performed by each man in an organization is a very rare thing."

Fish is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fish, 21 Highland Avenue, Wells.

The Dutch have been in the Indies since the latter part of the 16th century.

Alexandria, Egypt, was named after Alexander the Great, who founded it in 332 B. C.

INDUSTRY HERE NEEDS LABOR

Shortage Of Help Is Serious Industry Heads Report

Manistique is in the midst of a serious labor shortage, according to Mike Heinz, in charge of the local U. S. Employment agency. Displaying a thick sheaf of application for help made by several employers of labor during the past few days, he stated Wednesday that the list is continually growing, in spite of the fact that also, during the past week, about forty people had made application for unemployment insurance. This is not necessarily a reflection on the unemployed people, Mr. Heinz states. Most of them are skilled workers who have been temporarily laid off. To them the unemployment compensation is in the nature of vacation with reduced pay. Others, used to office work and indoor occupation are hesitant about accepting jobs involving manual labor, fearing that they cannot bear up under the tasks assigned them.

No doubt there are many individuals in the community who are willing and anxious to work, but are either timid or hesitant about making application, Mr. Heinz says. He is very anxious that these people call at his office for an interview regarding the nature of the work available.

R. G. Hentschell, general manager of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company, is also very anxious to get in touch with anyone desiring employment. Working conditions at the paper mill are good. The pay is good and time and one-half is allowed employees working longer than eight hours per day.

BLUEBERRY CROP LIGHT THIS YEAR

Lindroth Estimates Local Crop Way Below Average

Manistique's status as the blueberry capitol of the state is in jeopardy, Walter Lindroth, local intermediary between harvester and consumer announces.

This year's crop of blueberries in the Manistique area is just beginning to trickle in, Mr. Lindroth reports. The berries are of good quality, he says, but many of the places that were good producers in years past are barren now.

This condition, Mr. Lindroth states, is due to unfavorable weather in June when wet weather, accompanied by one or two killing frosts did widespread damage. The crop, he estimates, will be about twenty-five per cent of normal and he doubts that it will much more than supply the local demand.

Certain sections along Lake Superior, he says, show indications of a bumper crop, but the general average throughout the state indicates yields much below average.

A few cases of berries were sold in local grocer stores the first of the week.

Many War II Vets Attended Leigon Open House Meet

About one hundred and fifty service men of World War II—discharged veterans and men home on furlough—accepted the hospitality of the local post of the American Legion and enjoyed an informal get-together with members of the post at the new post headquarters Tuesday evening.

Early in the evening, Harvey Quick, district committeeman of the American Legion, gave a short talk relative to the aims and purposes of the Legion and Fred Hahne, local councillor for returned vets explained certain phases of the GI Bill of Rights.

Twenty World War II vets made application for membership at the gathering, greatly increasing the number of vets of their war on the roster.

USES OFFICE TO AID VETS

Will Be Major Point Of Contact Between Vet And Employer

The U. S. Employment Service office at Manistique has added to its numerous duties that of supervising the expanded job counseling and placement service for veterans, Mike Heinz, in charge of the office, announces.

This service is a part of that recently inaugurated under the direction of E. L. Cushman, state director of the War Manpower Commission and the U. S. Employment service. Special training in providing adequate service to veterans is being given managers of offices such as the local one.

Mr. Cushman, in calling attention to this new department, states that USES operations have been organized to provide priority service to veterans in order to expedite the flow of veterans through local offices and facilitate their employment.

Managers of these offices have been made thoroughly conversant with the problems of the returning veterans, most of them being veterans of World War I or II.

The state director emphasizes that service to veterans is a first responsibility of each U. S. Employment office and it is the duty of the management to assist with registration for work, counseling, referral of workers to jobs and the development of job openings.

In addition the employment representative will be the major point of contact with veterans' organizations, employers, trade associations, labor unions and other community groups with whom USES will cooperate in placement of veterans.

Youngsters Damage Victory Gardens

Numerous complaints have been made the past week by people having victory gardens at the fair grounds that youngsters "old enough to know better" are damaging the crops. Radishes and carrots have been pulled up, other crops trampled on and pea vines torn. One gardener telling of the damage said, "I wouldn't care so much if someone was hungry and wanted something to eat, but when kids deliberately pull up potato vines by the roots just to throw the small potatoes at each other, I think it's time to call a halt."

Tracks in the dirt would indicate that the children were in their early teens, the garden owners reported.

BRUINS SWEEP 9 WITH CINCY

Stan Hack Singles For Winning Run In Second Inning

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—Henry Wyse, top-draw pitcher of the league leading Cubs, resisted a persistent challenge by the Cincinnati Reds today to turn in his season's 14th victory, 2 to 1. The Chicagoans thus maintained their distinction of winning every game they have played with Cincinnati this year, the only such sweep in the majors. It was the ninth meeting of the teams.

Third Baseman Stan Hack singled in what proved to be the winning run in the second inning with the first of three hits, one a double. With the tying run on base, Hack ended the game with a fine leaping catch of Gerry Walker's pinch liner.

A scratch hit by Harry Lowrey and a fielder's choice set up the run driven in by Hack in the second. Doubles by Pitcher Red Heusser, who went a ten-hit route against Wyse, and Dick Sipek scored the Red's lone run in the third.

Score by innings:

Boom for Dickie As Yank Manager Begun by Martin

BY WHITNEY MARTIN
New York, July 26 (AP)—Well, if you had anything to say about it, whom would you pick to manage the New York Yankees when Joe McCarthy retires?

Figuring that Coach Art Fletcher wouldn't take the job if it was offered to him, we'd like to see Bill Dickey get a chance at it. Fletcher practically is Old Man Yankee himself, and probably knows as much about the club as McCarthy himself. That he would be a capable pilot generally is admitted, and he's had plenty of practice in a fill-in role off and on down through the years.

We can't think of anyone who typifies the Yankees more than Dickey, and it's always been our secret idea that he had more to do with their success than he was given credit for having. We know that in the teams good years, when victory practically was taken for granted, we always were a little apprehensive when the big raw-boned guy wasn't behind the plate.

Built a Tradition

The Yankees under McCarthy and Ed Barrow came to mean something more than just a great club.

They built up a tradition of dignity, of gentlemanly conduct on and off the field. You thought of those well-paid Yankee stars of recent years as substantial business men, disdaining the boisterous rowdiness which some teams and some athletes consider necessary for so-called color and success.

Dickey, or a fellow like Red Rolfe, fit into such a picture perfectly. We don't know what man Barrow would choose if he were picking a manager to carry on the Yankee tradition, but we have an idea it would be a man of the high type of the two mentioned.

The choice naturally is up to Larry MacPhail, and whether he will get his man out of the Yankee organization or search afield is problematical. The club has two very capable farm club managers in Bill Meyer and the veteran Casey Stengel. Stengel is a newcomer to the organization, but he has much managerial experience behind him.

Some believe MacPhail would lean toward a manager whose temperament dovetailed with his own. That is, he'd lean toward the fiery, glib type. Leo Durocher seemed to be MacPhail's type of manager—an outspoken, aggressive, pugnacious sort of soul with whom the effervescent Larry could exchange barbed remarks and insults and yet work with in perfect harmony.

Such a man would change the personality of the club, and this is in no sense detracting from Durocher's ability. There are different roads to the same goal, and Durocher's just happens to be a noisy one. He fits the Brooklyn picture like a made-to-order frame, because the Dodger fan is a breed apart. How the Yankee fans, accustomed to the quiet, efficient methods of McCarthy, would react to such a reversal of tactics is problematical.

That's why we think a fellow like Bill Dickey would meet the general approval of the Yankee fans. He's something of an oversized Mel Ott in disposition, and Ott is doing quite all right with the Giants, everything considered.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The fans who attended the Escanaba Teensters-Dagenais Grocers baseball (or was it softball?) game Wednesday night at the local baseball diamond had an entertaining evening, but all agreed that the fracas was nothing more than a novelty and that they were not witnessing the birth of a new game. It was designed simply as a novelty, of course, and it did accomplish its double-barrelled purpose of gaining some shekels for the baseball club and drawing a lot of fans to see a baseball diamond of a quality that they did not know existed in Escanaba.

The collection was not heavy, about $26, but it was no cause for disappointment since the baseball club is grateful of all favors and $26 represents the biggest box office take of the season for them. At that, the chorus of approval of the fine diamond was in itself a measure of satisfaction for the baseball club. The softball players, most of whom had never seen the swell layout at the baseball park here before, were particularly impressed by the grass infield, closely clipped, the smooth, well-rolled baselines and clay extensions.

The game confirmed the belief of many fans that a combination softball-baseball game would not be much fun if two fast ball pitchers were used on the bill. The Teensters, for instance, couldn't do anything against Tommy Ellegre, who fanned eight men in the three innings that he worked.

On the other hand, the Dagenais Grocers got only six hits off Jim Ross, who is not a fast ball pitcher, and a couple of those bingles may have been squelched with a little faster ball handling.

The Teensters are planning another novelty baseball game, with a group of local old time ball players providing the opposition. It will be strictly a baseball affair, however, and probably will be played as a part of a double-header when the Gladstone team meets the Escanabans in a Teen League game here Sunday, August 5.

Augie Van Effen, who was quite a pitcher in his younger days, is lining up a gang of old timers to go against the youngsters. It bears promise of being very interesting.

Hit and Miss—The Yanks are frantically seeking an outfielder, but bemoan that there isn't a fly-chaser in the minor leagues that could do the Yanks any good.

The WPB is willing to permit baseball clubs to install lights now, but the Tigers aren't interested...although they still are sold on the twilight version of night baseball...Zeb Eaton's grand-slam pinch homer at Yankee Stadium July 15 is said to have been the hardest hit ball here in 10 years...Red Ruffing drew a great ovation upon his return to the Yanks when he appeared in a pinch hitting role recently.

Score by innings:

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—Byron Nelson, the golfer who usually saves his Sunday punch for the final round, spanked a brilliant, six-under-par 66 to pace the field in today's opening 18-hole session of the $60,000 All-American Open tournament.

Nelson provided most of the first-day thunder in the spectacular, three-ring show at Tam O'Shanter course with a closing 30 after getting the range with a par 36.

That put Lord Byron a stroke ahead of Lt. Ben Hogan of the Army Air Force, who opened boldly with a three-under-par 33, but lagged over the back nine with 34 for a 67.

Four strokes off the pace with 70's were two veteran campaigners, Denny Shute, of Akron, Ohio, and perennial Gene Sarazen, of New York City.

Almost a dozen players were bracketed at 71, including such favorites as Harold (Jug) McSpaden, of Sanford, Maine, Sam Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, Va., making his first start since he fractured his wrist a month ago; Ky Lafoon, of Chicago; and Sgt. E. J. (Jutch) Harrison, winner of last week's St. Paul open.

The brewing feud between the two highlighted and inaugural proceedings in the Tam O'Shanter Carnival which also includes 72-hole competition for All-American women's open and amateur championships.

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—Dorothy Germain, of Philadelphia, 1944 runner-up, moved into a one-stroke lead over a select field of 32 players with an even-par 76 in the opening 18-hole session of the All-American Women's Open golf tournament today.

Miss Germain faltered on the opening nine with a 41, four-over-par, and then roared back into a four-under-standard 35 to finish a notch ahead of Dorothy Kieft, of Los Angeles, who had 39-38-77.

Scattered behind were five professional entries, including defending champion Betty Hicks of Claremont, Calif., who posted 40-41-81, and Lt. Patty Berg, of the Marines, 1943 champion, who shot 38-42-80.

RUFFING MAKES GOOD BEGINNING

Former Army Air Force Sergeant Back After 3-Year Lapse

New York, July 26 (AP)—Red Ruffing made his first major league pitching start since the 1942 World Series today and earned a 13-4 victory for New York over the Philadelphia A's, although the former army air force sergeant fanned eight men in the seventh and gave way to rookie Al Gettel.

Oppressive heat and periodic rainfall that forced two interruptions, once for almost an hour, forced Ruffing from the box after a walk and two singles had broken his shutout in the seventh. But the 40-year-old discharged veteran had a comfortable 8-1 lead at the time. He struck out five and had allowed only four hits and smashed a triple.

The home club picked up two runs each in the first and fourth and scored another pair with nobody out off Jesse Flores in the fifth.

Luther Knerr took up the burden for the A's when play was resumed and yielded another tally in the fifth and one each in the sixth and seventh and four in the eighth on Bud Metheny's two-run homer and Tuck Stainback's double.

After Ruffing retired the first seven men, Ed Busch pushed a single into right field for the first hit in the third. Bobby Estelle's triple in the fourth was the only other Athletics' blow up to the first interruption. After blanking the side in the sixth, Ruffing passed Estelle and was touched for singles by Buddy Rosar and Mayo Smith. Then Gettel came in to give up two more scores in the seventh, both charged against Ruffing. The A's picked up the final in the eighth.

NEWHOUSE OUT FOR 16TH TODAY

Tigers Open Six-Game Home Stand; Chicago Is First Foe

Detroit, July 26 (AP)—Hal Newhouse, lean Detroit lefthander, shoots for his 16th pitching victory of the American league season here tomorrow as the Tigers open a six-game home stand with the first of three games against the Chicago White Sox.

Newhouse, winner over the Sox in his only start against them this year, was slated to oppose Chicago's Johnny Humphries, who will be trying to square the season series between the town clubs at six victories each. Humphries has faced the Tigers twice, losing both games, although one was a four-hitter.

Single games are slated with the White Sox Friday, Saturday and Sunday. St. Louis arrives Tuesday for another three-game set.

After a five-game stand at Chicago, the Tigers return home Aug. 8 for a 22-game stand against the eastern clubs.

Robinson-Lamotta 12-Rounder Booked For Comiskey Park

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—Promoter Jack Kearns announced today he signed Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Jake Lamotta for a 12-round welterweight showdown in Comiskey park, home of the Chicago White Sox, on the night of August 23.

It will be their fifth engagement, with Lamotta winning the first by knocking the New York negro out of the ring three times and scoring three knockdowns. Both splattered George (Sugar) Costner, Cincinnati welter, for knockouts in the Chicago stadium last winter.

CANNING SUGAR CUT TO 10 LBS.

Second Issuance Of Five Pounds Will Begin Immediately

The canning sugar allocation in the Upper Peninsula has been fixed at 10 pounds per person, instead of 12 pounds as originally scheduled, it was announced yesterday by the district office of the OPA. Ration boards will begin the issuance of the second allocation of five pounds per person to applicants who previously received half of the season's allotment. No additional application is required, the Office Price Administration declared.

Early in the season an allotment based upon a maximum of 15 pounds per person was fixed by the national office of the OPA but because applications were heavier than anticipated, the canning sugar issuance was stopped June 2 and when the issuance was resumed on June 18, only five pounds per person were released. A second issuance was promised at that time, to be made later in the canning season, and it was indicated that the second issuance would probably be for seven pounds per person for canning purposes.

L. L. Farrell, district director, reported yesterday that applications have been heavier than anticipated and that the seven pound estimate for the second issuance was based upon the number of applications filed in 1944. When the applications exceeded expectations it was necessary to further curtail the allotment for the second issuance to five pounds per person, rather than seven pounds.

Capt. Tousignant Lost Life Aboard Torpedoed Vessel

Capt. Albert N. Tousignant, 44, U. S. Army medical corps, a former Marquette resident, has been officially reported dead, an apparent victim of the American submarine sinking of an unmarked Japanese prison ship last October, Marquette relatives have learned.

A War Department telegram received by his wife, Helen, of Oconto, Wis., said notification of his death had been made by the Inter-

The captain's father, George Herman Tousignant, formerly operated the store at Harvey. Four cousins of the officer live in Marquette. They are Mrs. R. F. Peterson, Mrs. J. J. Crish, Mrs. Ray McCombie and Mrs. Joseph Anderson.

Born at Isabella, Mich., Dec. 25, 1900, Capt. Tousignant was graduated from the Coleman high school and from Marquette university school of medicine in 1924. He practiced for nine years in Milwaukee and for four years was medical director of Civilian Conservation Corps camps in Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula. In October, 1936, he established a practice in Oconto.

Surviving are his wife, Helen, and a daughter, Rosanne, Oconto; his father George; a sister, Isabel, Milwaukee, and a brother, Dr. Harvey Tousignant, a captain in the U. S. Army medical corps in England.

Blowguns up to ten feet long, made of rigid native woods, have been used by primitive savages on Borneo, Palawan, Sumatra, endemic to the Philippine Islands, to kill birds and beasts for food.
